

What Should I Do If My Pet Is Missing

Immediately notify

- your regular veterinary clinic
- local veterinary clinics
- specialist veterinary clinics that may see your pet
- the RSPCA
- your local council

These organisations will ask for your details and those of your pet. If your pet is microchipped, have the microchip number close at hand.

- Ensure that your contact details are up to date with the Australasian Animal Registry. This is the nationwide database upon which your contact details are recorded when your pet is microchipped at Brisbane Bird and Exotics Veterinary Service. A microchip is only effective if the contact details recorded on this database are correct.
